Course Aims And Objectives

Develop your leadership and management skills with Harvest.

Our QQI accredited programme facilitates your learning in a supportive environment and is tailored to address the particular challenges of leading people and organisations in the nursing home sector. The objectives of this programme are to guide participants through management principles that will allow them to manage and support their teams in order to understand and drive best practice.

Course Delivery

The programme takes place over five, non-consecutive days and two short sessions in our online virtual classroom. Our course material and exam results are checked by QQI external examiners to ensure quality and best practice. Our programme is facilitated by industry expert Barry Kavanagh, who has over 30 years' experience providing learning solutions and training. The fee for this programme is €950 inclusive of tuition, materials, exam fees and refreshments. Discounts are available for group bookings.

Feedback From Participants

“The programme facilitator Barry Kavanagh delivered the modules in a very interactive, person centered, knowledgeable and practical style, bridging the theory practice gap with relevant examples, case studies and skill practice. The programme has definitely raised standards and is impacting positively on our practice. I would recommend this programme to anybody in a management or leadership role working in a residential care setting similar to ours...”

Finola Bell
Director of Operations
FirstCare Ireland

" I found the course exceeded my expectations. There have been significant benefits achieved with staff through team building and the changes I have adapted in my management and leadership styles. I would highly recommend this programme for experienced nurse managers or those commencing their management career“

Ann Blunt
Director of Nursing
Shannagh Bay Nursing Home
